

Working with peer feedback

Student name:

Explanation

---

When giving feedback, focus on the following questions:

- What's already going well? What's still unclear? Where do you see your fellow student's room for improvement?

Please note: the feedback should not be about your fellow student personally, but only about their work.

Feedback provider 3
Supplement the feedback from feedback providers 1 and 2. So, you're not choosing a new criterion for feedback, but rather trying to supplement, clarify, and refine the feedback already given, with the goal of making it more useful for the recipient.
