10th Workshop in Behavioral and Experimental Health Economics

Rotterdam, December 11-12, 2025

The Erasmus Center for Health Economics Rotterdam (EsCHER) is pleased to host the 10th Workshop in Behavioral and Experimental Health Economics at Erasmus University Rotterdam on December 11th and 12th, 2025. The workshop brings together economists and behavioral scientists who apply behavioral-economics insights and experimental methods to study health-related decision making. The workshop is part of the activities of the Behavioral Experiments in Health (BEH) network. We welcome contributions on all topics related to economic aspects of health-related decision making (e.g., preferences, incentives, institutions) applying experimental methods, be it online, laboratory or field experiments. We expect to have both long talks (30 min or more plus discussion) and lightening talks (5 min) that will be accompanied by a poster presentation.

Keynote speaker

W. David Bradford (University of Georgia)

Submissions

If you are interested in presenting a paper, please submit either a full paper, or an extended abstract of up to 500 words that addresses each of the following: objectives, methods, results, and conclusions. Preference will be given to full-paper submissions.

Deadline for submissions is August 30, 2025. Submissions should be uploaded via: <https://www.eur.nl/en/eshpm/events/10th-workshop-behavioral-and-experimental-health-economics-2025-12-11>.

Authors will be notified regarding the acceptance of their paper early October 2025. The workshop is taking place at Erasmus University on December 11th and 12th, 2025.
