About the authors:

Sheryl Sandberg is an American business executive, billionaire, and philanthropist. Sandberg is the chief operating officer of Meta Platforms and the founder of LeanIn.Org. She has served as the chief operating officer at Facebook since 2008, helping to dramatically increase the social media firm's revenue.

Kate Raworth is an English economist, best-known for 'doughnut economics', which she understands as an economic model that balances between essential human needs and planetary boundaries.

Svetlana Alexievich is a Belarusian investigative journalist, essayist and oral historian who writes in Russian. She was awarded the 2015 Nobel Prize in Literature "for her polyphonic writings, a monument to suffering and courage in our time".

Alexandra 'Sacha' Prechal is a Dutch law professor and judge. She has been a judge at the European Court of Justice since 10 June 2010.

Judith Butler is an American philosopher and gender theorist whose work has influenced political philosophy, ethics, and the fields of third-wave feminism, queer theory, and literary theory.

Wangari Muta Maathai was a Kenyan social, environmental and political activist and the first African woman to win the Nobel Peace Prize.
