

Impact Strategy Development: Discovering your Current Organisational Landscape

This tool is designed to guide schools in assessing their current organisational societal impact landscape by providing interactive guidelines and questions that help understand existing impact practices, policies, structures, and activities. By clarifying how your school currently supports impact and what resources it has in place, this tool enables users to identify areas for improvement before setting ambitions and formulating a strategy. Additionally, the package includes a spreadsheet to help you with storing and analysing your data.

Use it to Assess the current organisational practices and prepare for developing your impact strategies.

Who to involve Strategy development team.

Results Insights into the school's current impact landscape in terms of research, education, engagement and operations (e.g. activities, stakeholders and organisational support) to inform the development of an impact strategy.
