

Erasmus Institute for Philosophy and Economics (EIPE)

Research Seminar Programme Spring 1996

7 February, Marcel Boumans (University of Amsterdam)

"Lucas and artificial economies"

21 February, Mary Morgan (London School of Economics and University of Amsterdam)

"Irving Fisher's Models of Money"

6 March, Uskali Mäki (EUR)

"Rhetoric is easy, conversation is difficult -- or, answering and really answering: A rejoinder to McCloskey"

Deirdre McCloskey (University of Iowa and EUR)

"But Conversation is All We Have"

20 March, Arjo Klamer (EUR)

"The Children of Tinbergen"

24 April, Leszek Nowak (University of Poznan)

"Some methodological peculiarities of economic models"

8 May, Philip Pettit (Australian National University)

"Functional explanation and virtual selection"

15 May, Albert Jolink (EUR)

"If history matters, then what is history? Path dependency and all that"

22 May, Robert Sugden and Shaun Hargreaves Heap (University of East Anglia) and Maarten
Janssen (EUR)

"The limits of game theory and beyond"